SUGGESTED RECREATION

EXERCISE AND ACTIVITIES

- Star Jumps: A great warm-up to get your heart rate up and muscles moving.
- Squats: Strengthen your lower body, including your glutes, quads, and hamstrings.
- Push-ups: A classic exercise that works your chest, shoulders, and triceps.
- Lunges: Improve your balance and coordination while working your legs and glutes.
- Plank: Engage your core and build strength in your entire body.
- Quad Stretch: Gently stretch your quadriceps for improved flexibility.
- Forward Fold: A simple stretch that can be done standing or seated, improving flexibility in your hamstrings and lower back.
- Calf Raises: Strengthen your calves and improve ankle stability.
- Bicycle Crunches: Work your abdominal muscles.
- Side Planks: Another core exercise that works your obliques and improves stability. Burpees: A full-body exercise that combines strength and cardio, helping to boost your endurance and metabolism.
- Mountain Climbers: A dynamic move that targets your core, arms, and legs, while also providing a cardiovascular challenge.
- Wall Sit: Build endurance in your legs and core by holding this static position.
- High Knees: Increase your heart rate and improve agility and coordination.
- Tricep Dips: Tone the backs of your arms using a sturdy chair or bench.
- Bridge: Strengthen your glutes and lower back with this effective floor exercise.
- Shoulder Taps: Engage your core and improve shoulder stability by alternating taps with your hands while in a plank position.
- Russian Twists: Enhance your oblique strength and rotational stability with this seated core exercise.
- Star Jumps: A fun and easy way to warm up and get your blood flowing.
- Cat-Cow Stretch: A gentle yoga move to increase flexibility and relieve tension in your spine.

Incorporate some of these exercises into your routine to create a balanced workout that targets all major muscle groups and supports overall health and fitness.

Intentional Breath

These techniques can help reduce stress, improve focus, and promote relaxation.

1. Diaphragmatic Breathing (Belly Breathing):

How: Lie on your back with your knees bent and your head supported. Place one hand on your chest and the other on your belly. Inhale slowly through your nose, feeling your belly rise against your hand while your chest remains relatively still. Exhale slowly through your mouth, pushing all the air out of your lungs.

Why: This technique helps you engage your diaphragm, the primary muscle of breathing, which can lead to deeper, more efficient breaths.

2. Pursed-Lip Breathing:

How: Relax your neck and shoulders. Inhale slowly through your nose, then exhale slowly through pursed lips, as if whistling or blowing out a candle.

Why: This technique helps slow down your breathing rate and can be particularly helpful for people with shortness of breath.

3. Box Breathing:

How: Inhale for a count of four, hold your breath for a count of four, exhale for a count of four, and then hold your breath for a count of four.

Why: This technique can help calm your nervous system and improve focus by creating a sense of rhythm and control.
These techniques can be practiced anywhere, anytime, and can be a valuable tool for managing stress and improving overall well-being.
